MAIN

GENEALOGICAL history is, if I may venture on the simile, a Cemetery, in which the hatchments are still unremoved, the torches unextinguished, and the deep swell of the funeral chaunt yet wakening the echoes of the imagination and the heart. Here they repose, the brave, the gifted, the lovely, who gave themes to minstrels, models to painters, examples to posterity.

However great may be the distance of time—through whatever chaos of mouldering records the laborious search must pierce—there is a peculiar feeling of gratification in poring over an old ancestral record. It seems like stepping back into the days of our forefathers and conversing with those who have slept for ages in the silent dust.

From "Vicissitudes of Families," page 69. By Sir Bernard Burke, LL.D., Ulster King of Arms.

GENEALOGICAL ANNOTATIONS

DURHAM RECORDS

SHERATON is an ancient demesne or manor in the parish of Heseldene, and is first mentioned in the records in the time of Cutheard, Bishop of Chester-le-Street, A.D. 900, under the name of Scrufuton. The derivation of the name is obscure, but is probably of Anglo-Saxon origin.

Hiis diebus Elfred filius Birihtulfinci, fugiens piratas, venit ultra montes versus occidentem et quæsivit misericordiam Sancti Cuthberti et episcopi Cutheardi ut præstarent sibi aliquas terras. Tunc episcopus Cutheardus pro caritate Dei et amore Sancti Cuthberti, præstitit illi has villas Esingtun, Seletun, Thorep, Horedene, Iodene, duas Sceottun Iodene Australem, Holum, Hotun, Twinlingtun Billingham cum suis appenditiis, Scurufatun.

See Symeon Dunelmensis. Surtees Soc. Pub., vol. li., page 147.

TRANSLATION.

“In these days Elfred, son of Britulfinc, flying from the pirates came beyond the mountain towards the West imploring the mercy of St. Cuthbert and Cutheard the Bishop that they should give him some lands, and Cutheard gave him these towns, Eslington Sileton, Thorep, Horedon, Yoden Holom, Hoton, Tumlinton, Billingham with its appendages (Scrufutun), and Bishop Cutheard having completed fifteen years in the Bishopric died."

Hutchinson in his "History and Antiquities of the County Palatine of Durham," vol. iii., page 5, states that "Sheraton gave name to a resident family as early as the first year of Bishop Beaumont, whose Pontificate extended from A.D. 1311 to A.D. 1316."

See Inquisition post mortem, A° 1, Beaumont P.R.O.

Subsequent evidence, however, shows conclusively that the Saxon proprietors of the vill of Sheraton assumed the local name at a much earlier period than that referred to by Hutchinson, whilst Surtees in his "History of Durham," says, "From Thomas probably descended Stephen de Schurueton who died in A.D. 1318 seised of a messuage and two hundred and forty acres of land in Sheraton held in drengage, leaving Cuthbert his son and heir."

"When Bishop Cutheard held the priesthood in Bernicia, a Pagan King, named Reingwald, landed in Northumberland with many ships,* and presently invading Yorkshire, slew or drove into exile the chief folk there; moreover he seized the lands of St. Cuthbert and gave the towns to two of his Captains, of whom one was named Scula and the other Anlafbal. Scula, obtaining dominion from the town which is named Jodene (Eden) even to Billingham, oppressed the country-folk with sore and intolerable tribute; from whence to this day, the men of Yorkshire, whensoever they are enforced to pay a royal tribute, endeavour in reliefe of their own taxation, to lay their burthen on that part of St. Cuthbert's patrimony which Scula possessed. But blessed be holy St. Cuthbert! hitherto they have laboured in vain."

(SYMEON) DE OBSESIONE DUNELMI, ET DE PROBATATE UCHTREDI COMITIS (ET DE COMITIBUS QUI EI SUCCESSERUNT).

ANNO ab incarnatione Domini DCCCCLXIX regnante rege
Anglorum Æthelredo, Malcolmus rex Scottorum, filius
Kynedi regis congregato totius Scotiæ exercitu provinciam Northanhumbrorum cædibus et incendiis devastans Dunel-mum obsidione circumdedit.

Quo tempore Alduno episcopatum ibidem regente, Waltheof, qui comes fuerat Northanimbrorum sese in Beebbanburc incluserat.
Fuerat enim nimie senectutis ideoque in hostes nihil virtutis facere poterat. Cujus filio scilicet Ucthredo, magnæ stenuitatis juveni et militiæ aptissimo, filiam suam nomine Ecgfridam, Aldunus episcopus dederat uxorem et villas de terris ecclesiæ Sancti Cuthberti, scilicet, Bermetun, Skirningheim Eltun, Carltun, Heaclif, Heseldene, cum ea sub illa conditione donavit, ut ejus filiam quamdiu viveret in conjugio cum honore semper servaret. Videns juvenis præfatus teram ab hostibus devastatam, et Dunelmum obsidione circumdatam, et contra hoc patrem suum nihil agere adunato exercitu Northymbrorum et Eboracensium non parva manu Scottorum multitudinem pene totam interfecit, ipso rege vix per fugam cum paucis evadente.

Interfectorum vero capita elegantiora, crinibus, sicut tunc temporis mos erat, perplexis, fecit Dunelmum transportari, eaque a quotuor mulieribus perlota per circuitum murorum in stipitibus præfigi; mulieribus autem quæ ea laverant mercedem dederant vaccas, singulis. His auditis, rex Æthelredus, vocato ad se juvene præfato, vivente adhuc patre Waltheof, pro merito suæ strenuitatis et bello quod tam viriliter peregerat, dedit ei comitatum patris sui, adjungens etiam Eboracensium comitatum.

Reversus autem Ucthredus domum filiam Alduni episcopi dimisit; et quia eam contra hoc quod promiserat et juraverat abjecit, pater puellæ, videlicet episcopus, terras supradictas ecclesiæ quas cum ea donaverat ab Uthredo recepit.

Dimissa, sicut dictum est, episcopi filia, Uthredus, civis divitis, nomine Styr filii Ulf, filium, nomine Sigen, duxit uxorem, quam pater suus ideo ei dedit ut Turbrandum sibi inimicissimum interficeret. Postea vero illo scilicet Uthredo, proficiente magis et magis in re militari, rex Æthelredus filiam suam Elfgivam ei copulavit uxorem. Ex qua habuit filium Aldgitham, quam pater in conjugium dedit Maldredo filio Crinantein ex qua Maldredus Cospatricum patrem Dolphini et Walteofi, et Cospatrici. Filiam autem Alduni episcopi quam comes Uthredus dimiserat, quidam tein in Euervicshire, Kilvert filius Ligulfi accepit uxorem, de qua genuit filiam nomine Sigridam quam accepit uxorem, Arkil filius Ecgfridæ ex qua genuit filium nomine Cospatricum. Qui Cospatricus accepit uxorem filiam Dolfini filii Torfini, de qua genuit Cospatricum, qui nuper debuerat pugnare contra Walteof filium Eilsii. Kylvert filius Ligulfi dimisit filiam Alduni episcopi scilicet Ecgfridam quam episcopus pater ejus jussit statim Dunelmum venire. Quæ, patris sui jussis obtemperans, cum Bermetun, et Skirningheim, et Eltun, quas in propria manu habebat, rediit, et ecclesiæ et episcopo suas proprias, terras secum reddit, et postea velamen accepit, quod et bene servavit usque ad extremum sui diem; et, sepulta in cœmiterio Dunelmensi, diem retributionis expectat.

Ut autem de morte Uthredi comitis dicatur aliquid, paululum ad superiora redeundum est. Swein rex Danorum, fugato in Normanniam rege Anglorum Ethelredo, regnum ipsius invasit. Sed post breve tempus illo mortuo, rex Ethelredus in regnum suum rediit, copulata sibi in conjugium Emma Ricardi comitis Normannorum filia. Post aliquantulum temporis Cnut filius supradicti regis Danorum Swein, cum infinita multitudine veniens in Angliam regnaturus ad supradictum Comitem misit Uthredum, rogans, ut ad suum auxilium contra regem Æthelredum cum omnibus quos posset sibi occurreret, totum honorem suum et multo majorem sub ipso habiturus si eum adjuvaret. Erat enim idem Comes magnæ potentiæ, utpote comitatum Eboracensium et Northanhymborum habens. At ille, nullo modo id facere volens, respondit, pessimi hominis esse talia contra dominum et generum suum facere. “Nullius rei gratia” inquit “hoc agere volo, quia nec debeo; Æthelredo regi quamdiu vixerit fidem servabo. Est enim dominus meus et socer, cujus dono divitias et honores satis habeo. Illius traditor nunquam ero.” Itaque Cnut nullum de Ucthredo auxilium habuit.

Defuncto autem rege Æthelredo, cum totius Angliæ regnum Cnut arripuisset, ad prædictum Comitem misit præcipiens ut ad se sicut ad dominum suum veniret. Ille accepta securitate eundi et redeundi perrexit. Die statuto cum intrasset ad regem de pace locuturus, per insidias cujusdam potentis nomine Turebrant cognomento Hold, milites regis qui post velum extensum per transversum domus absconditi fuerant subito prosilientes loricati, in Wiheal, comitem cum suis xl viris principalibus qui secum intraverant obtruncaverunt. Quo occiso, frater ipsius Eadulf, cognomento Cudel, ignavus valde et timidus, ei successit in comitatum.

Timens autem ne Scotti mortem suorum quos frater ejus, ut supradictum est occiderat in se vindicarent, totum Lodoneium ob satisfactionem et firmam concordiam eis donavit. Hoc modo Lodoneium adjectum est regno Scottorum. Sed Eadulfo post modicum mortuo, Aldredus, quem prædictus comes Ucthredus genuerat ex Ecgrida Alduni episcopi filia, de qua supradictum est, solius Northumbriæ comitatum suscepit, patrisque sui interfectorem interfecit Turebrandum.

Hujus Turebrandi filius Carl et Aldredus comes gravibus exagitati calumniis dum hinc et inde utrinque insidiarentur, tandem amicorum instantia reducti in concordiam alterna sese satisfactione mediantibus amicis placabant; atque ideo in amorem alterutrum sunt adunati, ut fratres adjurati Romam simul tenderent. Sed diutina maris tempestate impediti, cœptum iter relinquentes domum sunt reversi.

Carl magnifice satis et accurate Comitem suscepit in domum suam sed post exhibita convivia dum eum nihil mali suspicantem quasi honoris gratia deduceret, in silva quæ Risewde vocatur interfecit ubi usque hodie locum occisionis ejus parvula de lapide crux ostendit. Interjecto tempore nepos Aldredi comitis comes Waltheof, erat enim filius filiæ illius, missa multa juvenum manu, avi sui interfectionem gravissima clade vindicavit. Erant namque filii Carl convivantes simul in domo fratris sui majoris in Seteringetun non longe ab Eboraco; quos inopinate qui missi fuerant præoccupantes sæve clade simul peremerunt præter Cnutonem, cui pro insita illi bonitate vitam permiserunt. Sumerlede, qui usque hodie superest, ibi non aderat. Deletis filiis et nepotibus Carli reversi sunt, multa in variis speciebus spolia reportantes.

Sed ut ad superiora redeat stilus. Comes Aldredus genuit quinque filias, quarum tres eodem nomine Ælfledæ vocabantur, quarta Aldgitha, quinta Ætheldritha nominabatur.

Ex una Ælfledarum Siwardus comes genuit comitem Waltheofum. Et cum ipsa Ælfleda esset comitissa quoniam erat filia Aldredi comitis, et ipse filius Ucthredi comitis et filiæ Alduni episcopi acclamavit ipsa jure hæreditario has supradictas terras, Bernetun (S)kyrningeim, Eltun, Carlton, Heaclif, Heseldene, quas comes Siwardus, maritus suus, ei donavit, et suo filio Waltheofo comitatum Northymbrorum dedit, sicut ipsius Waltheofi avus scilicet comes Aldredus habuerat. Mortuo Siwardo comite et comitissa Ælfleda filia Aldredi comitis, werra surgente, terræ illæ vastatæ sunt. Post multum tempus Arkil filius Ecgfridæ de quo supra dictum est, qui acceperat uxorem Sigridam filia Kilverti, et Ecgfridæ filiæ Alduni episcopi, sibi arripuit illas terras jam vastatas et inhabitavit.

Uxor vero illius Sigrída moriens, dedit Heseldene Sancto Cuthberto, et Heaclif, et Carlton, quas adhuc ecclesia possidet. Arkil filius Fridegisti, et Eadulf comes, Arkil filius Ecgfrith, hi tres habuerunt Sigridam.

Postea Willelmo rege veniente in Angliam, ipse Arkillus fugiens exul factus est. Sicque iterum terra ipsa vastata remansit. His ita peractis, quidam tein in Eoverwicshire, nomine Orm, filius Gamellonis, accepit uxorem unam ex quinque filiabus Aldredi comitis, Æthel-dritham, ex qua genuit filiam nomine Ecgfridam ex qua Eilsí de Teise genuit Waltheof, et duos ejus fratres, et Edam sororem eorum. Et quia illa Ecgfrida erat de genere Aldredi comitis, et filiæ Alduni episcopi, hæreditario jure ipsa Ecgfrida cum marito suo Eilsí arripuit Bermetun et Skirningeim.

In the grant by Algar to Dolfin son of Ughtred, the names of Waltheof, Arkillo, Ligulf and others occur.

EXPLOITS OF EARL UCTHRED, AND OF THE EARLS WHO SUCCEEDED

IN the year of our Lord's incarnation, nine hundred and sixty-nine, during the reign of Ethelred, King of the English, Malcolm King of Scots, the son of King Kyned, collected together the entire military force of Scotland; and having devastated the province of the Northumbrians with the sword and fire, he laid siege to Durham.

At this time Bishop Aldun had the government there; for Waltheof, who was Earl of the Northumbrians, had shut himself up in Beebbanburc (Bamborough).

He was exceedingly aged, and in consequence could not undertake any active measures against the enemy.

Bishop Aldun had given his daughter named Ecgfrida in marriage to Cospatric's son, named Ucthred, a youth of great energy, and well skilled in military affairs; and along with her the Bishop had given him these vills—part of the lands of St. Cuthbert, viz., Bermetun, Skirningheim, Eltun, Carlton, Heaclif, and Heseldene, upon these terms, viz., that so long as he lived, he would treat his wife with honour.

Now when this young man perceived that the land was devastated by the enemy, and that Durham was in a state of blockade and siege, he collected together into one body a considerable number of men of Northumbria and Yorkshire, and cut to pieces nearly the entire multitude of the Scots; the King himself and a few others escaping with difficulty.

He caused to be carried to Durham the best looking heads of the slain, ornamented (as the fashion of the time was) with braided locks, and after they had been washed by four women, to each of whom he gave a cow for her trouble, he caused these heads to be fixed upon stakes, and placed round about the walls.

When King Ethelred heard of this, he summoned this young man to his presence (this was during the lifetime of his father Waltheof), and as a reward for his courage, and for the battle he had fought so gallantly, he gave him the earldom which had been his father's, adding thereto the earldom of the men of York.

Upon his return home, however, Ucthred sent away the daughter of Bishop Aldun; and because in so doing he had acted contrary to his promise and oath, the father of the young woman (I mean the Bishop) took back to the church the lands which he had given Ucthred, along with his daughter.

Having thus put away the Bishop's daughter as we have mentioned, Ucthred took to wife the daughter of a rich citizen, named Styr, the son of Ulf (her name was Sigen); and her father gave her to him upon the understanding that he would put to death Turbrand, who was most hostile towards himself (Styr).

Afterwards, when Ucthred had made additional progress in military affairs, King Ethelred gave him his own daughter Elfgiva in marriage, by whom he had Algitha, whom her father wedded to Maldred, became the father of Cospatric, who begat Dolphin, and Waltheof and Cospatric.

The daughter of bishop Aldun, whom Earl Ucthred had sent away, became the wife of a certain thane in Yorkshire, namely, Kilvert, the son of Ligulf; their daughter Sigrida became the wife of Arkil, the son of Ecgfrid, and she bore him a son named Cospatric.

This Cospatric took to wife the daughter of Dolfin, the son of Torfin, by whom he begot Cospatric, who of late ought to have fought with Waltheof, the son of Eilaf.

Kilvert, the son of Ligulf, sent away the daughter of bishop Aldun (I mean Ecgfrida), whereupon her father commanded her to return forthwith to Durham, and when she obeyed his commands, she brought back with her Bermetun and Skirningheim and Eltun which she had retained in her own possession and thus she restored to the church and the bishop the lands which properly belonged to them.

After this she took the veil, which she kept faithfully until the day of her death; she lies buried in the church-yard of Durham, awaiting the day of judgment.

In order to detail the death of earl Ucthred, our narrative must revert a little.

Suein, the King of the Danes, having driven Ethelred, the King of the English, into Normandy, took possession of his realm; but upon his death which occurred no long time afterwards, King Ethelred returned to his own kingdom, having taken to wife Emma, the daughter of Richard the duke of the Normans.

Only a very short time had elapsed when Cnut, the son of Suein, the King of the Danes whom we have already mentioned came to England accompanied by a countless multitude, meaning to reign over it. He sent a message to Ucthred asking him to join him, along with all the men whom he could muster, to render him assistance against King Ethelred; promising him that in the event of his compliance, not only should he retain possession of the honour which he then held, but that something yet more extensive should be added. This earl was a man of very considerable influence, for he had under him the counties of Northumberland and York. Ucthred, however, answered that he would do nothing of the sort, and declared that it would be the depth of baseness were he to act thus against his lord and father-in-law. "Nothing would induce me," said he, "to take such a step; nor indeed ought I to do so. So long as King Ethelred lives, I will be faithful to him ; for he is my lord and my wife's father, and the abundant honours and riches which are mine I possess by his gift, I will never be a traitor to him." Thus Cnut had no assistance from Uethred.

But upon the death of Ethelred, when Cnut became possessed of the whole realm of England, he sent a message to the earl, commanding that he would come to him as his lord. Having received a safe conduct for his journey there and home again, the earl went.

Upon the day appointed, as he was going to the King to treat of peace, certain of the King's armed soldiers were hidden within the traverse of the house at Wiheal, behind a curtain which was there suspended, suddenly rushed out and killed the earl, and forty of the chiefest of his men, who had entered along with him. Thus was planned by the treachery of a certain powerful man, Turebrant surnamed Hold. Upon his death, his brother Eadulf surnamed Cudel, a lazy and cowardly fellow, succeeded him in the earldom.

Apprehensive that the Scots would revenge upon himself the slaughter which his brother had inflicted upon them, as has been already mentioned, he yielded up to them the whole of Lothian to soothe them and procure a peace ; and hence it is that Lothian became added to the kingdom of Scotland. But Eadulf having died shortly after this, Aldred—whom the aforesaid Uethred had begotten by Ecfred, the daughter of Bishop Aldun, of whom we have already made mention—became possessed of the earldom of Northumberland only, and put to death Turebrant, who had murdered his father. Carl, the son of Turebrant, and Earl Aldred were engaged in a mutual enmity, and were constantly laying traps the one for the other, but at last, by the agency of their friends, they brought to an agreement ; by whose instrumentality also they made satisfaction to each other. So firmly knit indeed was their friendship that, like sworn brethern, they meant to visit Rome together, but a long continued tempest of the sea hindered them and they were constrained to abandon their plan and return homewards. Carl received the earl into his house with great pomp and due respect, but after having provided an entertainment for him, and when he was entirely thrown off his guard, he conducted him, as if out of compliment, into the wood called Risewude and there slew him, when he suspected no harm. A little cross of stone marks, even to this day, the spot at which he was murdered.

Earl Waltheof, the grandson of Earl Aldred, for he was the son of his daughter, some time afterwards avenged the death of his grandfather with a mighty slaughter; for which purpose he had collected a large assembly of young men; for when the sons of Carl were feasting together in the house of their elder brother at Seterington, not far from York, the party which had been despatched there for that purpose, fell upon them unawares and put the whole of them to death with the sole exception of Cnut, whose life was spared from regard of his innate excellence of disposition. Sumerlede, who is alive at this present day, happened not to be there. Having massacred the sons and grandsons of Carl, they returned carrying with them many and diverse spoils. But we must return to the point from which we digressed. Earl Aldred was the father of five daughters, three of whom bore the same name, Aelfleda; the fourth was called Aldgitha, and the fifth Etheldritha. One of these Aelfledas married Earl Siward, by whom she became the mother of Waltheof; and as this Aelfleda was countess, being the daughter of Earl Aldred, and he the son of Earl Uethred and the daughter of bishop Aldun, she laid claim to these lands following as belonging to her by hereditary right: viz. Bermtun Kyrmingeim, Eltun, Carlton, Heaclif, and Heseldene which Earl Siward her husband had given her ; and she gave to her son Waltheof the earldom of Northumberland, as it had been held by Waltheof's grandfather, earl Aldred. Upon the death of earl Siward and the countess Aelfleda, the daughter of earl Aldred, a war broke out, in consequence of which that land was devastated.

After a long time, that Arkil, the son of Ecgfrid, already mentioned (who had taken to wife Sigrida, the daughter of Kilvert and of Ecgfrida, the daughter of Bishop Aldun,) possessed himself of these lands which had been thus devastated, and they settled upon them. Upon the death of his wife Sigrida, he gave not Heseldene to St. Cuthbert, but also Heaclif and Carlton, which are still in possession of the church. Arkil, the son of Fridegist and earl Eadulf, and Arkil, the son of Ecgfrith; these three had Sigrida (to wife). Afterwards, when King William came into England, this Arkil took to flight and became a banished man, and thus for the second time this land continued devastated. After these occurrences, a certain thane of Yorkshire called Orm, the son of Gamel, took to wife Etheldritha, one of the five daughters of earl Aldred, and she bore to him a daughter named Ecgfrida, who, by Eilsa of Tees, became the mother of Waltheof and his two brothers and Eda their sister. And as that Ecgfrida was descended from earl Aldred and the daughter of Bishop Aldun, she that is Ecgfrida and her husband Eilsa, took possession of Bermetun and Skirningheim by hereditary right.

Albini salutem et fraternam dilectionem.

Ex quo nati fuimus utique vos de mea necessitate et auxilio et me de vestris satis exoratos existimo.

Precor igitur vos frater karissime, et cum per Dei misericordiam naturali et carnali vinculo conjuncti simus, hoc alter ad alterum, cum necessitas evenerit, in operibus ostendamus.

Ecce, frater karissime, peccata mea maxima et iniquitates Dei misericordia diutius tolerare non valens flagella justiciæ suæ carni meæ miserrime misericorditer admovit ne per peccatricem insolentiam anima mea eternam mereretur gehennam.

Ego si quidem quod in prosperitate mea melius facere potuissem, vos quem super omnes diligo, honoris mei et rerum mearum constitui heredem, eo videlicet tenore, ut redditiones terrarum quas ego Eboracense et Dunelmensi feci ecclesiis, pro salute animæ meæ et redemptione peccatorum meorum, et quia ipsæ terræ ecclesiis illis jure adjacent reddidi et concessi nullo modo violare præsumatis; sed ut donatio mea firma sit et stabilis, vestris viribus et omnium amicorum nostrorum faciatis.

Terræ autem quas ego reddidi ecclesiis hæc sunt Ecclesiæ Dunelmensi et Sancto Cuthberto ij maneria qui Waltef filius Alsi de me tenebat ultra Teisam scilicet Bermetun et Scirmingeham, et quicquid ad eas pertinet KARISSIMO Domino suo Regi Anglorum Henrico Nigellus de Albin fidele servitium. Precor vos karissime Domine in quo post Deum tota mea est fiducia, ut quia ego vester (fui) dum potui et vos veraciter dilexi et vobis fidelissime servivi in necessitate mea pro Dei dilectione et vestra dulcissima nobilitate mei misereamini. Cum enim ego et in servitio vestro et in aliis operibus meis peccata maxima et bona vel nulla vel modica fecerim, de vestra confisus bonitate dulcissima terrulas quasdam quas de ecclesiis habebam ipsis ecclesiis reddidi et dedi.

Precor igitur vos, karissime Domine, et quia corporaliter non possum pedibus majestatis vestræ spiritualiter obvolutus cum lacrimis et singultibus exora ut quæ ipsis ecclesiis reddidi et aliis ecclesiis de domino meo, pro redemptione animæ meæ dedi, majestatis vestræ pietas ita concedat et confirmet, ne ab aliquo violari queat ullo tempore. Terræ autem quas ego reddidi ecclesus hæc sunt Ecclesiæ Dunelmensi et Sancto Cuthberto ij maneria quæ Waltheff filius Alsi de me tenebat ultra Teisa, scilicet, Bermentun et Schirning et quicquid ad eas pertinet Non de servitio meo sed de bonitate vestra piissime Domine confido.

CHARTER OF RESTITUTION OF NIGIL DE ALBINI OF THE MANORS OF BERMETON AND SKIRNINGHAM.

RANULFO Dunelmensi Episcopo et omni congregacioni Sancti Cuthberti Nigellus de Albini salutem.

Dei misericordiam et Sanctæ Mariæ. Sanctique confessoris Cuthberti vestramque piissimam intercessionem requiro ut mei misereamini quia Deus omnipotens sua justicia gravi me infirmitate corporis percussit, et hic jaces graviter vexatus, nesciens quid michi amodo evenire debeat. Et propterea rogo ut pro me sitis pro fratre vestro et amico esse debetis.

Et volo ut sciatis quod ego, pro redemptione animæ meæ reddo et dono Sancto Cuthberto et ecclesiæ Dunelmensi illa duo maneria quæ Waltheof filius Alsi de me tenebat ultra Teisa, scilicet, Bermetun et Scirnyngham, et inde Sanctum Cuthbertum nunc facio resaisiri.

ORDINATIO SIVE FUNDATIO DOMUS DE SHIRBURNE.

ANIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, nos Thomas permissione Divina Dunelmensis Episcopus tenore presentium intimamus, quod inspecto registro tempore bonæ memoriæ Antonii Dunelmensis episcopi prædecessoris nostri penes nos remanente ordinationem Vicariæ de Kellowe nostræ Dunelmensis Dioceseos tenorem qui sequitur continentem comperimus in eodem. Hugo Dei gratia Dunelmensis episcopus dilectis filiis Germano Priori Dunelmensi, Burchardo et Willielmo Archidiaconis et omnibus Clericis et Laicis totius Episcopatus sui et omnibus ad quos literæ presentes pervenerint salutem et Dei benedictionem. Non est humana possibilitatis dignam Dei largitionis et munificentiæ prosusceptis beneficiis vicem rependere, nisi virtus altissimi gratis donet, ut quod donat sibi redonari permittat, nec sic valet humana servitus sui creatoris gratiam promereri, quia pro susceptis a suo largitore beneficiis dignas ipsi gratiarum referat actiones, et eorum quæ sibi sunt largiente divina bonitate collata partem quam capiti principatus nequit impendere membris ejus studeat impertiri; Hinc est, quod divina commiseratione commoniti Domum Hospitalem Leprosorum saciendam mente concepimus, et de loco partim quo fieri debet edocti, Domum ipsam in honore Salvatoris et beatæ Mariæ semper Virginis, et Sancti Lazari sororumque ipsius Mariæ et Marthæ, cum quibusdam eidem Hospitali beneficiis ad sustentationem assignatis, juxta pontem de Shirburne prope Dunelmum ædificavimus. Quam principaliter pro pace Regni et salute corporis et animæ Domine nostri Henrici illustrissimi Angliæ Regis, et Ducis Normanniæ, Aquitaniæ, Comitum, Andegavensis, et omnium Prædecessorum et heredum suorum et pro nostra propria salute, quæ præ cunctis indigere videbamus et pro illorum requie sempiterna qui nos in honorem Episcopatus sublimaverunt et pro ipsorum, salute perpetua qui de facultatibus suis Eleemosynam eidem Hospitali largiti fuerunt, vel imposterum largientur, aut largitas custodient et tuebuntur; et pro omnium fidelium tam vivorum quam mortuorum salute construere procuravimus; quatenus ibi de beneficiis et possessionibus eidem Hospitali caritative collatis, ipsorum fames sitis, et nuditis Leprosorum, aliiq; defectus et miseriae quibus incessanter, procurantium obsequiis ad hoc assignatis ad nostram et omnium Christi fidelium pacem perpetuam et salutem releventur. Statuimus igitur, ut in Ecclesia ibidem in honorem prædictorum Sanctorum consecrata, et in capella interius infra domum Infirmorum in honorem Sancti Nicholai constructa divina semper a tribus presbyteris et quatuor Clericis ad serviendum ibidem statutis pro temporali pace prædictorum et requie sempiterna celebrentur. Sed et quinque conventus leprosum, (hoc est) sexaginta quinque numero semper ad minus, ibi victu pariter et vestitu procurentur, et eorum procurator, qui eos et eorum possessiones custodierit ab Episcopo sacerdos potius quam alterius ordinis (si bonus et fedelis inventus fuerit) præficiatur et in Episcopi potestate consistat. Procuratorem sic minus idoneum invenerit, amovere, et alium quem magis crediderit convenientem instituere, et cum plenius cuncta suæ potestati submissa cognoverit tante diligentius cuncta tueatur eorum usibus omnimodo profutura, pro quorum sustentatione data sunt et observare quatenus de impensa in observandis eorum possessionibus et augendis sollicitudine se considat et credat a Domino percepturum gaudium felicitatis æterna et de negligentia si assuerit; vel commodo temporali sibi non eis quæstito, quod Deus avertat, pœnas non tantum temporales sed æternas se timeat suscepturn a summo Iudice juste judicante.

Procuratoris vero providentia pariter et discretione cuncta interius agenda suerint, et exterius tam de Infirmorum receptione, quam de sanis Fratribus et maturis Soroibus ad serviendum recipiendis, et de possessionibus augendio et regendis ordinentur.

Ad eorum itaque sustentationem (consilio et affensu Prioris et Capituli nostri, nec non Archidiaconorum et omnium clericorum nostrorum) eidem Hospitali Dedimus et concessimus et præsentī carta confirmamus de dominico nostro villam ipsam de Shirburn, cum molendino et pasturis et aliis rebus per rectas divisas ad ipsas pertinentibus, de quibus cum primum ad Episcopatum venimus annuatim Episcopo sexaginta tantum solidi reddi solebant.

Et super Darwentam fluvium, qui forestam nostram dividit, a vicinis, Ebchester locum (viz. anachoritarum, ad animalia fratrum informorum usibus ibi nutrienda et ad eorum pastores ibidem procurandos licentiam dedimus de sartis proficiendis unam carucatem, terræ arabilis, quæ octies viginti acras tantum in se contineat.

Et duas bovas terras in Wytton, quæ antiquitus pro servitio Capellæ ejusdem villæ datæ fuerunt. Et septem aliis bovas in eadem villa, quas de Galfrido filio Ricardi et Auberico, sicut cartæ venditorum testantur emimus.

Et villam de Garmundsway cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, quas sumptibus propriis acquisivimus, reddendo inde pro tertia parte singulis annis imperpetuum Radulpho filio Paulini de Eboraco et hæredibus ejus quatuor marcas pro omni servitio duas (viz.) ad Pentecostam, et duas ad festum Sancti Martini sicut ejusdem Radulphi carta testatur.

Confirmamus eis etiam unam carucatem terræ juxta Garmundsway, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, quæ Raceby vocatur quam de Barone primo ejusdem terræ cultore et habitatore jamduciū emerimus et eis donavimus sicut in carta ejusdem Baronis quam inde habent continetur reddendo inde singulis annis Domino majoris Kellow quindecim solidos pro omni servitio.

Et præterea unam carucatem in Shorueton cum pastura ad mille Oves, et cum omnibus aliis rebus ad eam pertinentibus, quam Thomas filius Stephani filii Burnolphi prædictis Leprosis pro amore Dei et intuitu nostræ dilectionis in puram et perpetuam Elimosinam dedit et concessit et carta sua confirmavit, sicut Monachi Rievallenses eam melius unquam et plenius habuerunt et tennerunt, quam Stephanus pater Thomæ et Thomás eis prius per viginti quatuor annos tenendam concesserant, pro qua tribus annis anti predictum terminum elapsis dimittenda, cum Ædificiis eorum ad opus Infirmorum retentis, prædictis Monachis quinquaginta marcas argenti donavimus. Et præterea unam bovatom terræ in eadam villa juxta predictam terram eorum confirmamus quam Robertus prædicti Thomæ patruus eis in puram et perpetuam Elemosinam dedit et carta sua confirmavit.

Et in super eis donavimus ecclesiam de Kellow juxta ejus parochiam consistentem, et ecclesiam de Grendon quam novam et recenter in honorem beati Thomæ Martyris construximus; sed etiam ecclesias de Sockburn et Bishopton, quas dilectus filius noster Rogerus de Coyners affensii Roberti filii et hæredis sui eidem hospitali dedit et concessit et carta sua confirmavit, nos eas Ecclesias eidem Hospitali confirmamus; ita duntaxat quod Procurator Infirmorum singulis prædictis Ecclesiis, vel aliis eisdem Infirmis imposterum conferendis, ad consilium Episcopi perpetuos et idoneos assignet Vicarios, qui cuncta ad Ecclesias pertinentia, exceptio tribus Decimis tantum bladi viz. Agnorum et Lanæ suis usibus habeant et retinerant pro quibus Ecclesiis honeste deserviant et omnia onera ad Episcopum et officialem ejus pertinentia sustineant; salva Leprosis terra Capella de Wytton jamdudum assignata, cum alia quam eis in eidem villæ sicut predictum est, adquisivimus; Paperes autem predictas tres decimas tantum de singulas Ecclesiis ad victum suum habeant de quibus omnino homini in aliquo temporali servitio respondeant. Siquis vero quicumque eorum quæ prædicti fratres in præsentem possident, vel in futurum Deo juvante poterint adipisci, subtrahere, imminuere vel adferre sciens attemptaverit, iram et indignationem Dei omnipotentis, omnium Sanctorum et sacro Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ se noverit animadversionem incursum. Omnibus autem eisdem fratribus beneficia conferentibus vel collata conservantibus, sit pax, vita salus, et æternæ felicitatis gaudia largiatur omnium bonorum largitor Dominus :

THE BOLDON BOOK.

THE BOLDON BUKE compiled by order of Hugh de Puiset (Pudsey) Bishop of Durham, in 1183, a valuable record of the tenures and of the services rendered in respect thereof by the tenants of the Bishop. This survey comprised all the manors or lordships of the See of Durham and extended over considerable portions of the County Palatine of Durham.

Hugh Pudsey, Bp. of Durham, A.D. 1153—1195.

It was printed by the Surtees Society in 1852, and forms Vol. xxv. of their publications.

There is no evidence of the existence of the original Boldon Book; the adjoined is from an early copy of it.

The Doomsday Book of the Conqueror did not include the four Northern Counties of England, and on the death of King Stephen, the patron, and said to be the Uncle of the Bishop, he was compelled to render a detailed account of the military and of the holdings of the palatinate, to ascertain the military resources available to repel the incursions of the Scots.

The Boldon Book is kept in the Auditor's Office at Durham. It is a small folio consisting of twenty four pages wrote (sic) in a bad hand about the year 1183, by order of Bishop Pudsey, and relates only to the Bishop demesnes, or the villainage tenures; and takes no notice of the barons, or tenants in capite. This Book has always been reconed of great value and curiosity and admitted several times as evidence in the Courts of Law at Durham. There is a neat transcript of it in the Chapter Library at Durham made by Chris Hunter MD. and another is extant in the Bodleian at Oxford (Laud I. 52) being a thin quarto consisting of 23 closely written paper leaves, and has once belonged to Bp Tunstall, whose name Cuthbertus Dunelm. E. written as it seems by his own hand at the bottom of the first page. It is wrote (sic) in a small neat hand, about the age of Henry IV. The cover has been blue velvet, and the inside has the following title.

“ Boldon Book, Inquisitio de Consuetudinibus et Redditibus totius Episcopatus Dunelmensis facta per Hugonem Episcopum anno 1183.”

JOHANNES tenet medietatem de Schurutona pro iij marcis et est quietus de operationibus et servitiis, quæ de medietate illius drengagii feri solebant, pro Craucrok, quam quietam clamavit.

Thomas tenet aliam medietatem de Shurutona et reddit xxx s. de cornagia, et dimidiam vaccam de metride, et dimidiam castelman et iv scateldras brasii, et totidem farinae et totidem avenæ. Et unaquæque caruca villanorum suorum arat et herciat ij acras, et unusquisque illorum facit iij precationes in autumnno cum j homine et quadrigat dimidium tonellum vini, et lapidem molendini apud Dunolm.

Drengus pascit canem et equum, quantum ad medietatem drengagii pertinet, et vadit in magna caza cum j leporario, et ij cordis et dimidia et ij hominibus, et sequitur placitur et vadit in legationibus.

Vide The Boldon Book or Domesday Book of the County of Durham. Surtees Soc. Pub., vol. xxv. Hutchinson's "History of Durham," vol. iii., page 5.

TRANSLATION.

“Thomas (whom I do not hesitate to identify with the benefactor of Sherburn) holds the other moiety; pays 30/- cornage, provides half a milk cow, half a man for Castle-ward, renders four scatchalders of malt, as many of meal, and as many of oats. Every carucate of land held by his villans ploughs and harrows two acres for the lord, and every of those villans performs four days work for the lord, with one man in Autumn ; and he carts half a tun of wine and half a millstone to Durham. The dreng feeds a dog and a horse in proportion to half the drengage, attends the great chase with one greyhound two cords and a half of provender and two men attends the Court of Pleas, and serves on Embasses."

At this period the vill of Sheraton was divided into two moieties, both originally held of the see of Durham in drengage, a servile tenure which obliged the holder to cultivate the lord's land, reap his harvest, feed his dog and horse, and attend him in the chase.

(See Boldon Book.)

But the servile tenure of one moiety had been already commuted for. See Charter of John son of William de Scurueton relating to land in the vill of Scurueton which his father and his ancestors had held in drengage.

(Vide Archeologia Æliana, vol. iii., page 27, new series.)

From Thomas probably descended Stephen de Shereton, who died in 1318 seised of a messuage and two hundred and forty acres of land in Shurueton held in drengage leaving Cuthbert his son and heir and subsequent evidences seem to identify the lands with the moiety afterwards held by John d'Ask.

In the 24th year of Bp Hatfield 1369, Rich^d de Ask who had probably purchased from Sheraton (see the Charter of Robert Fitz John de Shurueton to R^a Ask under Owton) died seised of half the vill leaving Conan his cousin g and heir the moiety was valued at five marks and held by 40s. There is no connecting inquisition between Conan and John de Ask who died in 1397 h seised of the Grange and half the vill by military service and xis. A further change in the tenure was thus introduced and the old drenges services quite forgotten.

The moiety was further charged with the annual payment of two marks at Pentecost and Martinmas by equal portions to the masters of Sherburne a monied commutation for the landed granted to the Hospital by the early proprietors of Sheraton. The inquisition is defective and returns no heir but he was probably John de Ask. John son and heir of Robert de Shurueton and Cecilia widow of Robert released all right in Sheraton by Charter 10 Jan 22 R II (1398.)

William Sheraton holds one tenement built upon with all the houses built thereon, gardens, orchards and twenty acres of arable land land (sic) meadow and pasture with the common fields there with all and singular their appurtenances. Which all and singular the premises the said William holds at will of the Lord and yields therefrom per annum at the feasts aforesaid by equal portions 24^s.

Hume says great severity was exercised against such as had taken part in these rash enterprises, sixty-six petty constables were hanged, and not less than eight hundred persons are said, in the whole, to have suffered by the hands of the executioner.

Amongst other topics of interest discussed by Mr. Surtees and Sir Walter Scott was the history of the two rebellions, and especially that of 1715, and the fate of the amiable Earl of Derwentwater. On the Northern Rising in 1569 the historian observes to Sir Walter in one of his letters, dated Low Harrowgate 1807, "Many of the chief Durham families suffered severely in that rebellion, and the cruelty of Sir George Bowes, Knight Marshall, to his unhappy countrymen was equal to any Duke of Alva that ever existed."

WILLIAM SHERRATON of Elwick in the County of Durham Gent. Hee is one of the persons comprised in the Adiconal Act for sale of Lands forfeited to the Commonwealth for treason page 1778 by the name of William Sherraton of Elwick in the County of Durham.

The estate hereafter mentioned is surveyed according to the said Act and certified to be returned the 22 of March 1652 and a copie thereof transmitted to yo^u by Ralph Darnall Esqr. Registrar apointed the said Act the 8 of April 1653.

Hee petitioned here the 8 of April 1653 desiring to compound for the said estate according to the proviso in the Act page 1812. The said Survey was made in the month of March 1652 whereby it appears that hee was seised of a tenement or dwelling house in the township of Elwick in the parish of Hart in the said County of Durham. And of one other small tenement there, and severall parcells of Land particularly mensioned in the said Survey  being of the yearly valleu of 70·16·8.

It is certified by the said Survey that Thomas Corner holdeth all the before mentioned premisses by Lease dated the 15 of January 1650 graunted by Francis Wren and Thomas Darnall Comm^{rs} for sequestrations in the said County of Durham for seaven yeares under the yearly rent of 68·3·4 But are more worth upon improvement 2·12 .

They also certifie that there is a fee farme Rent yearly paiable to the crowne, now to George Blakeston of 6·4 to which the said William Sherraton deposeth that ever since his purchase of the premisses there hath been thereout paid the said see farme Rent of 6·4 to the late Kings Officers ontill about the time of the Sequestration of his estate and to the  Parliament Officers until the same was purchased by the said Mr. Blakeston who has since his purchase received the same.

And there is also certified by the Survey a Rent charge paible to William Mayre of Hardwick in the County of Durham Gent of 4 per ann out of the premisses untill the some of 50 borrowed Anno 1633 bee fully discharged.

They also certifie that the premisses were the estate of William in fee.

There is now produced a deed under the hand and seale of William Sherraton of Elwick in the County of Durham Gent whereby hee graunts unto the said William and his heirs on consideration of 50 one Annuity or yearly rent of 4 to be issuing and going forth of all that his messuage or tenement with the apurtennances in Elwick in the said County of Durham.

Habend the said Annuity, annual Rent or some of 4 onto the said William Mayre his heirs and assigns for ever. With a proviso that if the said William Sherraton his heirs executors, administrators or assignes do at any time thereafter give warning to the said William Maire his heires or assignes that they will within six months after such warning pay onto the said William Maire his heires or assignes the some of 50 together with the arrears and forfeited nomine penes and pay the same accordingly then the said graunt to be void.

Whereunto the said William Sherraton deposeth that he did really borrow of the said William Maire 50 for security whereof hee did really and bona fide make seale and deliver as his act and deed the said Indenture dated the 22 of January in the 9 yeare of the late King which he so sealed and delivered on or very neare the said day of the date thereof whereby hee did graunt unto the said William Maire one Annuity of fflower pounds p ann to be issuing out of the premisses until paymt of the said 50 and this deponent saith that he hath not at any time since repaid the said 50 nor any part thereof. But that the said Rent of 4 p ann is still justly due unto the heires or assignes of the said William Maire.

COPY OF MR. LANGWORTHY'S OPINION.

Re Robert Sheraton deceased.

If as I assume the Institution is a Voluntary association the benefit of which is confined to its members and the object of it is not to benefit the public generally I think on consideration of the terms of the gift of the £800 that it cannot be supported as a charitable gift and is void as tending to a perpetuity (Carne v. Long 2 D. G. F. & J. 75 Beaumont v. Oliveria L. R. 6 Eq. 536 & L. R. 4 Ch 311 and Cocks v. Manners L. R. 12 Eq. 580) and I advise the trustees to exonerate themselves from responsibility in respect of it by paying it into Court under the Trustee Relief Act. It should be ascertained from the Rules of the Institution whether my assumption as to the objects of the Institution is correct.

JAS. WM. LANGWORTHY.

LINCOLNS INN, 23rd Jan., 1875.

[COPY.]

LINCOLN'S INN, February 23, 1876.

DEAR TROTTER,—

Exp: Sedgefield Mechanics Institute.

I enclose my opinion which if possible is even more adverse than Langworthy's to the Society. The Testator has himself to thank for rendering this gift a perpetuity and it could not be good possibly unless you can shew the Institute is a charity.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) SAMUEL JOHN HOUSLEY.

COPY OPINION.

Re Robt. Sheraton, deceased.

I am of opinion that the gift for the benefit of the Sedgefield Mechanics Institution is a gift which (unless it can be upheld as charitable) is void as a perpetuity the testator clearly indicating that the Income only shall be used.

Had the capital been given to be dealt with according to the Rules of the Institution I should probably have held a different opinion but that would have depended on the said Rules. The gift to the Dominican Convent in Cocks v. Manners, Law Rep. 12 Eq. 574 was upheld by V. C. Wickens on the ground that there was nothing to prevent it being divided between the members of that body (see pp. 585-6). I do not think the Institution can be regarded as a charity as it is not for the benefit of the public generally nor for the furtherance of any public object as is the case with the various learned Societies (see Thomson v. Shakespeare Johns. 612-1 Dlg. F & I 399 and the cases cited by Mr. Langworthy especially Carne v. Long 2 Dlg. F. & J. 75) I further think the gift cannot be supported under 34 Vict. c. 13 "The Public Parks Schools and Museum Act, 1871" as the institution is not in connection with a museum "dedicated or to be dedicated to the recreation of the public." I therefore think that the gift for the said Institution is void.

The donees cannot have the validity of the gift judicially determined without commencing an action for the Administration of the Testator's Estate unless the Trustees of the Will concur with them in presenting a Special Case under Lord Justice Turner's Act or unless the Trustees pay the money into Court under the Trustees' Relief Act.

LINCOLNS INN, 25 Feb., 1876.

DEAR TROTTER,—

Re Sheraton and Sedgfield Mechanics Institution.

Your letter in this matter only reached me this morning on account of its being wrongly addressed. I am afraid you will say to me as Balak did to Balaam "I called thee to curse mine enemies and behold thou hast blessed them altogether." Were we to argue the case we should put it in some such form as is stated in your letter.

... et sigillis suis apposuerunt.

Curiosus sub...
de...

But I do not think that such an argument would for a moment prevail. You must remember that the £800 is given to the Rector who is to apply the income for the benefit of the Institution. If this is not a perpetuity I cannot say what is. It is clear the Testator intended such otherwise why should he have restricted the gift to the institution to the income? When I read the Will I considered this fatal irrespective of the rules of the Society. Had the gift been of the £800 to be expended for the benefit of the Institution and its rules permitted a division among its members the gift would have been good on the principal (sic) laid down concerning the Dominican Convent in Cocks v. Manners. But this is not so. Tho' we might argue that the gift being for the benefit of the working classes to forward their education comfort and sobriety it is a charitable legacy and therefore not void. But we are met at once by Carne v. Long where a gift to the Penzance Public Library was held void. Indeed in that case even counsel for the Library gave up the point of its being a Charity. I do not say the point is unarguable. I do not think that, but I do think that were we to try the point we should be beaten. Perhaps the least expensive way of trying it would be for the Executors to present a Special Case and then let it be argued between the Institution and the Residuary Legatee.

Yours very truly,

(Signed)

SAMUEL JOHN HOUSLEY.

OBITUARY WITH ANECDOTES OF REMARKABLE PERSONS.

October 22nd, 1806. In Broad-street, Soho, after a few days illness of a phrenitis, aged 55. Mr. Thomas Sheraton, a native of Stockton-upon-Tees, and for many years a journey-man Cabinet-Maker, but who since about the year 1793, has supported himself, a wife and two children, by his exertions as an author.

In 1793 he published a work in two volumes 4to intituled "The Cabinet-maker and Upholsterers Drawing Book," to which is prefixed a numerous list of subscribers, including almost all the principal cabinet-makers in town and country. Since that time he has published 30 numbers in folio, of a work intended to be completed in 125 numbers intituled "The Cabinet-maker and Artists' Encyclopædia," of which he sold nearly a thousand copies.

In order to increase the number of his subscribers to this work he had lately visited Ireland, where he obtained the sanction of the Lord-Lieutenant, the Marchioness of Donegal and other distinguished persons.

He was a very honest, well disposed man; of an acute and enterprising disposition; but like many other self-taught authors, showed the want of a regular education in his writings.

He has left his family, it is feared, in distressed circumstances.

CHAMBERS' ENCYCLOPÆDIA.

Sheraton, Thomas, designer of furniture, was born at Stockton-on-Tees in the County of Durham in 1751. In 1791 he produced "The Cabinet-maker and Upholsterers Drawing Book" with over one hundred plates (new ed. 1793-6-1802; reprinted 1896). He gave his name to a style in which ornament was subordinated to utility and on severer lines than that of his predecessor Chippendale (q.v.). He died in 1806.

DICTIONARY OF NATIONAL BIOGRAPHY.

Sheraton, Thomas (1751-1806) furniture maker and designer, was born at Stockton-on-Tees in 1751, and learnt the trade of cabinet-making. He received no regular education, but showed from the first natural artistic learning, and taught himself drawing and geometry. He was a zealous Baptist, and first came before the public as author of a religious work, "A Scriptural Illustration of the Doctrine of Regeneration" which appeared at Stockton in 1782, 12mo. He was styled on the title page, "Thomas Sheraton Junior" and described himself as a mechanic. His interest in theology never diminished.

As a practical cabinet-maker he does not seem to have attained much success; but as a designer of furniture he developed a skill and originality which placed him in the front rank of technical artists.

Removing to Soho, London, about 1790, he began the publication of a series of manuals of furniture design to which the taste of his countrymen still stands deeply indebted. His first publication was a collection of eighty-four large folio plates entitled, "Designs for Furniture," n.d. In 1791 he produced "The Cabinet-maker and Upholsterer's Drawing Book" (with Accompaniment and Appendix within the two following years) 4to with 111 plates; the second edition (1793-6) had 119 plates; the third edition (1802) was revised and the whole embellished with 122 elegant copper-plates. This last edition is rare. A reprint undated was lately issued by Mr. B. T. Batsford.

In 1803 he published "The Cabinet Dictionary or Explanation of all Terms used in the Cabinet, Chair and Upholstery Branches," 1 Vol. in 15 parts. Next year he began the issue of "The Cabinet-maker and Artists' Encyclopædia" (fol.) which was to be completed in 125 numbers, but he lived to publish only thirty.

In London, Sheraton apparently wholly occupied himself with his literary and artistic publications. All were published by subscription, and he travelled as far as Ireland in search of subscribers, who included besides persons of rank, the leading Cabinet-makers of the country. None of his publishing ventures proved financially successful, and though his designs were regarded in his own day with superstitious admiration he lived in poverty. He eked out an income by teaching drawing. To the last he occasionally preached in Baptist chapels.

In 1794 an essay by him entitled, "Spiritual Subjection to Civil Government" was appended to Adam Callander's "Thoughts on the Peaceable and Spiritual Nature of Christ's Kingdom ;" the essay was reprinted separately next year.

In 1805 Sheraton published "A Discourse on the Character of God as Love."

He died at Broad Street, Soho, on the 22nd October, 1806, leaving a family in distressed circumstances.

Sheraton was the apostle of the severer taste in English Cabinet-making which followed upon the rococo leanings of his great predecessor Thomas Chippendale (q.v.) who under the influence of the brothers John and Robert Adam, had refined and simplified the methods of his predecessors. In the Cabinets, Chairs, writing-tables, and occasional pieces made from Sheraton's designs the square tapering legs, severe lines, and quiet ornament take the place of the cabriole leg or carved ornament which characterized earlier English cabinet-work. Sheraton trusted almost entirely for decoration to marqueterie. A characteristic feature of his cabinets was the swan-necked pediment surmounting the cornice, being a revival of an ornament fashionable during Queen Anne's reign.

ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF FURNITURE.

BY FREDERICK LICHFIELD.

THOMAS SHERATON who commenced work some twenty years later than Chippendale and continued in business until the early part of the nineteenth century, accomplished much excellent work in English furniture. The fashion had now changed; instead of the rococo—literally, rock-work and shell (rocquaille et coquaille) ornament which had gone out a simpler and more severe taste had come in. In Sheraton's cabinets, chairs, writing-tables and occasional pieces we have therefore no longer the cabriole leg or the carved ornament ; but as in the case of the brothers Adam, and the furniture designed by them for such houses as those in Portland Place, we have now square tapering legs, severe lines and quiet ornament. Sheraton trusted almost entirely for decoration to his marqueterie. Some of this is very delicate and of excellent workmanship. He introduced occasionally into his scrolls animals with foliated extremities, and he also inlaid marqueterie trophies of musical instruments, but as a rule the decoration was in wreaths of flowers, husks or drapery, in strict adherence to the fashion of the decorations to which allusion has been made. A characteristic feature of his cabinets was the swan necked pediment surmounting the cornice, being a revival of an ornament fashionable during Queen Anne's reign. It was then chiefly found in stone, marble or cut brick work, but subsequently became prevalent in inlaid woodwork.

Sheraton was apparently a man very well educated for his time, whether self-taught or not one cannot say ; but that he was an excellent draughtsman and had a complete knowledge of geometry is evident from the wonderful drawings in his book and the careful though rather verbose directions he gives for perspective drawing. Many of his numerous designs for furniture and ornamental items are drawn to a scale with the geometrical nicety of an engineer or architects plan. He has drawn in elevation plan, and minute detail, each of the five architectural orders.

The selection made here from his designs for the purposes of illustration, is not taken from his later work which properly belongs to a future chapter, when we come to consider the influence of the French Revolution, and the translation of the " Empire " style to England.

Sheraton published " The Cabinet-Maker and Uphosterer's Drawing Book " in 1793 and the list of subscribers whose names and addresses are given throws much light on the subject of the furniture of his time. Amongst these are many of his aristocratic patrons and no less than 450 names and addresses of cabinet makers, chair makers and carvers, exclusive of harpsichord manufacturers, musical instrument makers, upholsterers and other kindred trades. Included with these we find the names of firms who, from the appointments they held, it may be inferred had a high reputation for good work and a leading position in the trade but who perhaps from the absence of a taste for "getting into print" and from a lack of any brand or mark by which their work can be identified, have passed into oblivion while their contemporaries are still famous.

The following names taken from this list are probably those of men who had for many years conducted well known and old established businesses, but would now be but poor ones "to conjure with" while those of Chippendale, Sheraton, or Hepplewhite, are a ready passport for a doubtful specimen. For instance:—France, Cabinet Maker to his Majesty, St. Martins Lane. Charles Elliot, Upholder to His Majesty and Cabinet Maker to the Duke of York, Bond St. Campbell & Sons, Cabinet Makers to the Prince of Wales, Marylebone St. Besides those who held Royal appointments there were Manufacturers of decorative furniture—Thomas Johnson, Copeland, Robert Davy, a French carver named Nicholas Collett who settled in England, and many others.

The central doctrines of all his work and writing are that ornamentation must subserve utility, that the lines of construction if sound, connote beauty and that a successful simplicity is harder and more of attainment than the highest development of Louis Quinze superfluity.

That his principles were not the outcome of a mere vague intuition is evidenced by the admirable treatises on geometry, architecture and perspective with which he introduces his monumental "Cabinet-maker and Upholsterers Drawing Book." Unfortunately in his later years under the influence of the "Empire" style which came into vogue after the French revolution, he was untrue to his own convictions, and in response to popular demand designed some articles of furniture of blatant and vulgar symbolism.

Rev. John Wallis. This eminent botanist, learned antiquary, and amiable man, was for some years Curate of Billingham. He is stated to have been born at Ireby, Cumberland, in 1714; he took his degree of A.M. in 1740 at Queen's College, Oxford, where he acquired some reputation as a sound scholar. At the age of 23, whilst residing on a Curacy at Portsmouth, he married; and the matrimonial happiness of himself and his amiable wife became proverbial wherever they resided. Having removed to the north, he published in 1745 "Reflections on a Candle, in an irregular Ode," printed by John Goodes, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, to which was prefixed an advertisement, announcing that he had opened an academy at Wallsend. In 1748, he published also at Newcastle in 2 vols. 8vo., "The occasional Miscellany in Prose and Verse, consisting of a variety of Letters, written originally to a young Gentleman designed for Holy Orders, with specimens of Sacred Poetry and Sermons." Having become Curate of Simonburn, Northumberland, he had an opportunity of indulging his taste for botany; and the antiquities of the district attracting much of his attention, he published in the year 1769 his history of the county of Northumberland in 2 vols. 4to. The first volume contains an account of plants, fossils, &c., and evinces the author's proficiency in natural history; the contents of the second volume, though limited in plan, and on various subjects, are of considerable merit. The reputation which this work procured for him did not, however, improve his fortunes; for in consequence of a dispute with his Rector, Dr. Scott, he was compelled to resign his Curacy, on which he had resided happily for many years, and to take refuge with his wife in the house of a friendly clergyman with whom he had been acquainted at College. In 1775 he became Curate pro tempore, at Haughton-le-Skerne, and immediately after removed to the Curacy of Billingham, where he continued till increasing infirmities obliged him to resign at Midsummer, 1792. Thus, notwithstanding his abilities and learning, he never obtained a higher position in the Church than a Curacy of £30 per annum. Mr. Pennant and Mr. George Allan endeavoured ineffectually to assist him with Bishop Egerton; but Bishop Barrington allowed him an annual pension from the time he resigned his Curacy; and by the death of a relative he came into possession of the rents of a very small estate during the two last years of his life. His disposition was so mild, however, and his sense of duty so proper, that he acquiesced without a murmur or a sigh in his humble fortune; and in token of his gratitude to Bishop Barrington, he was, just at the close of his life, engaged in packing up an ancient statue of Apollo found at Carvoran, a Roman station on the Great Wall, as a present to the Hon. Daines Barrington, brother to the Bishop. Having removed to the village of Norton, he died there July 23rd, 1793, aged 79. His widow survived him only a short time.
